Electronic governing revolutionizes SME services with portal on the Internet

The portal allows citizens to consult their situation, fill in forms and schedule appointments, among many other functionalities. The National Director of the SME, Mr. Freitas Neto will present the portal.

The Migration and Foreigners Service (SME) will present tomorrow, September 29, at 11pm, in its own facilities, the new Institutional Portal. The electronic platform will be explained in detail, conducted by the National Director of SME, Mr. João de Freitas Neto.

Among the portal's main innovations to be presented is the availability of electronic services that reduce substantially the waiting times for obtaining visas and permits. The bet on the presentation of detailed legal and institutional information and the provision of an interaction tool between the users and the institution are other essential benefits of the platform.

The SME's Institutional Portal integrates the Promoex - Modernization and Excellence Program of the SME, presented in August by the Minister of the Interior, Mr. Sebastião Martins. The program advocates a renovation in the SME's strategy in three essential pillars: Institutional Image, IT and Human Resources.
